

bambeco

hot style for a cool planet

summer 2010 preview

Bambeco celebrates bamboo, the planet's most renewable and versatile resource, and ecology, the essential relationship between people and the natural environment.

Our innovative products are made from materials that are all-natural, biodegradable, nontoxic, organic, recycled, recyclable, repurposed or renewable. We place a high value on human dignity, and strive to ensure that those involved in the creation of our products are paid a fair wage and provided with a safe, healthy work environment.

Bambeco works with partners, suppliers and artisans who share these values.
